

Harward Late

Harward Late is a seedling of Valencia selected in New Zealand. The fruit is virtually indistinguishable from a Valencia, and has become the only important strain of Valencia in New Zealand. The tree is vigorous, large and productive, and it must be grown on trifoliata rootstock for best results.